PLAN TO RESTRICT RECONSIGNMENT IS PROMPTLY VETOED

By Federal Fuel Distributor Who Wants Railroad to Retain Privilege.

NEED OF HELP FOR COAL

Industry Is Being Proposed by Strong Men in Banking and Other Business Who Believe That the Railroads Have Been Doing Much Thinking.

By GEORGE H. CUSHING, Special Correspondent of The Courier.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Clyde B. Atchison, member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, is a curious "critter" as one of the humorists used to say. He believes that if you are in a public office and are given powers to use, you ought to use them on the theory that if somebody else sat in that chair possessed of the same power, he might use it.

Mr. Atchison was being taken to task, the other day, by some clippers for an excessive use of the power conferred by Congress. He replied to the critics:

"Congress gave us this power with the idea that we would use it. If I sit here and do not use it, somebody will come along and sit in this chair who will use it."

The other day, however, Mr. Atchison got into a little tangle which has been amusing Washington and the coal men a heap. He was sitting in his office when it occurred to him that, for a long while, he, the commission taken any action to restrict the reconsignment privilege on anything. It occurred to him that it is about time to take that particular trotter; horse out on the back road and warm it up. So, he wrote a letter to R. H. Atkinson, president of the American Railway Association. He told Mr. Atkinson—copy to Mr. Spens, federal fuel distributor—that in the interests of faster movement of the coal, the reconsignment privilege ought to be curtailed. He suggested that they write a letter to the commission hinting at something of that sort.

Mr. Spens, the boy who slipped the wheels thing in the mud. He replied—copy to Mr. Atchison—that in his experience as a railroad man he had found that the reconsigning of cars expedited the unloading of cars rather than having a tendency in the opposite direction.

"Besides," he intimated, "the government may, one of these days, be trying to distribute the nation's supply of coal. If it does, it will have agents in all parts of the country. It will have to police shipments through to the consumer. It will have to put those agents in complete power over those shipments. And, it will have to consign cars to those agents to allow them to reconsign it to the people who are going to be allowed to have coal. If we are going to have to reconsign coal, we must be reconsigning it on the railroad."

At that interesting point, the Atchison suggestion died. Rather, it was taken out in the back lot and murdered.

To those who have been watching it, it is recent months, the commission is an interesting study. It contains strong men and weak men. It contains radicals and standpatters. Among the strong men on the commission—and in the entire nation, for that matter—are such men as Mark Feltner, Judge Hall, John Egan and a few others. The leader of the extremists is Mr. Atchison.

When the strong men went on the commission they gave plenty of evidence of their adherence to conservative and constructive ideas. They have always stood firmly against socialism. But when it comes down to the point of interesting point, the Atchison suggestion died. Rather, it was taken out in the back lot and murdered.

The question which is bothering all of them is: Does the coal industry want any help from the outside? Will it be willing to accept any help?

Persons who did not register the first two days are aside for the purpose and who do not avail themselves of the opportunity to do so will lose the privilege of voting. The only way that they can be accepted by the county commissioners for registration after tomorrow will be inability to appear the designated days because of illness or necessary absence from the city all three days.

The registrars will be at the polling places from 8 o'clock to 12 noon on Saturday. Voters must appear in person. Take along receipts for county or state tax paid within two years. Naturalized persons should be ready to exhibit naturalization papers.

LOUIS G. WHITE'S BARN DESTROYED; CROPS ALSO BURN

Livestock All in Ogen With Exception of Single Driving Horse.

Fire early this morning destroyed the big barn on the farm of Louis G. White in Dunbar township. Although the Connellsville fire department responded to a call and neighbors turned out to assist in fighting the flames, the conflagration could not be stopped. The entire building, with its contents of hay, grain and farm implements was destroyed. One horse was cremated.

The flames were first discovered by neighbors who arose before the White family. They saw flames burning between the hay stacks on the outside of the barn and the building. In a very short time the barn was prey to the fire and it burned rapidly. The Connellsville firemen received the call for help at 5:25 o'clock. The men worked for several hours, combating their efforts to the silo and outbuildings. The barn was about to fall when the firemen arrived.

Chickens were used and also a small hose connected with the line of the Trotter Water Company. Neighbors formed a bucket brigade. The fireman did not return here until 8:30 o'clock.

The fact that the flames originated on the outside leads to the belief that the fire was of incendiary origin. Although no official figures are available, it is estimated that loss is close to $10,000.

That only one horse was burned was due to the fact that the other had been left in the fields over night. The remaining animal was a driver.

An early report in the city was that the fire was on the Moreland farm and this because well circulated before the truth was known. The White farm is in the same neighborhood.

Coach Wine Is Confident of Winning Game

The Connellsville High School football team was to hold its final workout for the Johnstown game, to be played in the Flood City tomorrow, at Fayette field this afternoon. The squad of 22 men, together with Coach C. H. Wine and Student Manager Robert Schenck, will leave tomorrow morning at 7:00 o'clock over the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Those who will be included on the trip are Yaw, Edmunds, Enos, Lowmyer, Pierce, Gillis, Noid, Ruff, Whipple, George McCormick, Max, Nutter, Jackson, Swannor, Shaw, Marlette, Cunningham, McVey, Dugan, Runnack and Wilhelm.

Coach Wine isn't boasting about the prospects but he has the firm conviction that his team will not return home defeated.

Minnesota Forest Fire Situation Is Held Less Menacing

DULUTH, Oct. 5.—Decided feeling of optimism prevailed throughout most sections of the northern Minnesota forest fire zone today. Fire fighting crews were able to make progress yesterday, and last night's foggy weather and decreased wind velocity aided them. No new outbreaks had been reported today.

Several crews reported that during the night they had gained the upper hand with fires.

SEVEN HUNDRED MINERS STRIKE AT BROWNSVILLE

Refuse to Load Coal on Cars and Barges Consigned to Open Shop Plants.

Two hundred fifty men who went on a strike at the plant of the Diamond Coal Company at Brownsville, Pa., today began a new phase of their strike. They refused to load coal on cars and barges consigned to open shop plants.

The strike was first discovered by neighbors who arose before the White family. They saw flames burning between the hay stacks on the outside of the barn and the building. In a very short time the barn was prey to the fire and it burned rapidly. The Connellsville firemen received the call for help at 5:25 o'clock. FOREST FIRES IN CANADIAN WOODS HALTED BY RAIN

By Associated Press.

COBALT, Ont., Oct. 5.—A heavy rain this morning had virtually quenched the forest fires about the city, which took a toll of possibly 60 lives and wiped the town of Cobalt, and several smaller settlements out of existence.

Thirty-three bodies have been recovered in the burned wreckage. Thousands of tents, food, bedding and other supplies are arriving now to aid the 5,000 homeless who have wandered into Cobalt.

THREE RAINFALLS, Cobalt, Oct. 5.—A light rain which fell continuously over this region early today enabled the fire fighters to curb the progress of a forest fire which raged yesterday along the St. Lawrence river. Telephone cables from Grand Marais and Grand Island and Shawinigan Falls announced that the fires were practically under control and that the danger of a conflagration had temporarily disappeared. A large area of valuable timberland was devastated.

JACKSON, Mo., Oct. 5.—There was no battling with the forest fire which started in Cobalt and north of here three days ago and raged through the place of slash, forest, woodland and their families to see.

Extra fire fighters are being rushed to the vicinity.

It was officially stated this morning at the conclusion of the British cabinet meeting, but it is deadlocked and cannot be resumed before the British and French governments have conferred over the situation. Lord Curzon, the British foreign secretary, will leave at once for Paris to see Premier Poincare.

It was also officially stated in rough outline that from the British point of view the Turks are demanding more than was offered in the Allied note and on the other hand that they were not accepting the conditions of that note. It was stated the Turks want to obtain the concession of the note without the conditions.

PRESIDENT Cybor reported that Mayor Mitchell had told him to go ahead with the plans for the celebration, promising to place the matter of securing funds before both the New Haven Club and the Chamber of Commerce. About $400 is needed to make the affair a success, the fireman says.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Hearings on the government application for a permanent injunction against the striking railway shop craft will get under way early in November, Judge James A. Wilson has indicated today when attorneys for the shopmen filed their answer in Attorney General Daugherty's bill.

The court gave the government attorneys to October 12 to study the answer, which denied the government allegations and sets up the defense that the men were driven to striking by the acts of the railroad executives and that the strike is in fact a lockout.

Good Will Among Men Only Thing Can Save Civilization

LONDON, Oct. 6.—"Good will among men is the one thing that can save civilization," declares the Industrial League and Council in a plea it has just issued for harmonious relations between employers and employees. It is signed by many people of prominence representing various shades of political opinion, including Premier Lloyd George, Lord Robert Cecil, Lord Burnham, Lady Astor and several representatives of labor.

"The real ruler of the world today is commerce," says the league. "Only the worker can build up what the soldier has destroyed."

"There never was a time in the whole history of the world when the industrialist had so much to offer or the world at large had so great a need of his services."

"Europe has received a staggering blow. Millions of its best citizens have been lost. The foundations of its commercial life have been shaken as though by an earthquake."

"We in Great Britain have the factories, the workers, the skilled men, the able seamen. One of the most vital things lacking in real motive-power."

"If we are to obtain it every class, employer and employee alike must admit the theory of personal responsibility and must endeavor to fulfill its obligations."

"Men in every political path look forward to the time when there shall be a real settlement in Europe, but we will not achieve unity at home can we hope to achieve unity abroad. Not until all classes of the community recognize, not only their rights but their obligations, shall we achieve unity at home."

McSPARRAN'S UNTRUTHS ABOUT OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

John A. McSparran is no nearer the truth, nor fairer in statement, with respect to public school matters than he is with respect to other so-called "issues" of the campaign in which he is abjectly striving to make himself the central figure. But in his public addresses his comments on the schools show more conclusively than his observations on other questions, that he is wholly unfit to serve as the chief executive of the commonwealth which gave birth to the free public school and fostered its growth long before other states adopted the idea.

During his address in Connelville
Wednesday evening Candidate Mc-Sparran made statements which can be explained upon no other ground than that he is grossly ignorant of the subject, or is seeking to deliberately misinform the people as to what he is pleased to term "Paganism."

In the first place, his declaration that the survey of the schools of the state, conducted by the Russell Sage Foundation, was undertaken at the instance of Superintendent of Public Instruction Pingenon, is a bald misstatement. This impartial inquiry which established the unpleasant and discreditable fact that Pennsylvania has fallen behind in educational progress as compared with poorer and less populous states, was made some considerable time prior to the death of Dr. N. C. Schneider, Dr. McSparran's predecessor in office. The latter had nothing whatever to do with the survey except to formulate and place in effect a broad policy for the improvement of our schools with a view to remedying the defects which the survey so plainly revealed to be the result of Pennsylvania's failure to take rank in the education of its children to which its wealth and importance entitle it—not, as McSparran so ignorantly asserts—in the interests of the propagation of any "ism," other than that fundamental Americanism which stands for equal educational advantages for all the children of the state and equality of all men before the law.

Again, McSparran betrayed his unfamiliarity with the truth concerning the operation of the School Code
when he asserted that under the so-called "Pingenon plan," every individual teacher in the state, numbering upwards of 50,000, is required to make out elaborate reports and forward them direct to Harrisburg, and that as a result "stock places" are created for hundreds of clerks in the Department of Education.

The only truth in this statement is that each teacher is required to prepare a report of enrollment, attendance, absences, tardiness and other matters which comprise an accurate, intelligent and necessary record for the stated periods into which the school year is divided. These reports, which in the aggregate do number thousands, are not sent to Harrisburg, as McSparran claims. Instead, they go to the supervising principal in districts having such officials. In other districts they go to the county superintendent. These officials summarize the reports of all the teachers into a single report which, in the form of a small card, is sent to Harrisburg in accordance with the requirements of the School Code.

This procedure limits the number of reports to a few hundred instead of many thousands which McSparran,
in his eagerness to manufacture campaign material, claims to be one of the causes of increased expenditures in the public schools. By this system of reports the Department of Education has, for the first time in its history, been able to have at its command a comprehensive and prompt report of the condition of the schools of the state which is essential to a wise administration of the whole system.

Other statements by the Democratic aspirant for gubernatorial honors show that he is never embarrassed by facts which, by distorting, ignoring or misstating them, he can make a favorable impression upon unthinking or uninformed voters.

Without a constructive program of his own, and without hint or suggestion as to what in his judgment could be done to better meet the conditions by which the public schools are outraged, McSparran resorts to the outworn device of telling untruths about the educational system of the state, thoroughly aligning himself with both the open and avowed and the secret and deceptive enemies of the public schools.

When a candidate for an office second in its importance to that of the presidency of the United States becomes so hard pressed for issues that he has to resort to misrepresentation and falsehood, and advocates a disastrous policy that would prevent thousands of children in the less prosperous sections securing equal educational advantages with those of the more favored sections, such a candidate loses all right to claim the suffrage of the people whom he seeks to delude or misinform.

That in the estimate being placed upon McSparran's candidacy by all the friends of popular education in the state of Pennsylvania. For this reason his efforts to make political capital out of his opposition to the public schools are accomplishing nothing except to insure a still larger majority for Gifford Pinchot, who realizes that there was never greater necessity than at this time when the people of the state should stand behind the public school as that agency by which every boy and girl in the commonwealth is assured an equal chance to secure an education and thereby become better fitted to serve as good and loyal citizens.

McSparran will have to propose something infinitely better than putting the Democrats in control at Harrisburg as a means of heading off the much discussed "issue." No party in the nation's history has enjoyed greater distinction for its facility in making a real issue of public affairs than that to which the Democratic aspirant for gubernatorial honors, and foe of our public schools, gives his allegiance.

is not unlikely that such further revision of "regulations" will be made man case?

This Will Ward Off And Break Up Colds

Just a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin removes the congestion

THE two ailments that people generally regard as of the least importance are in reality the cause of the greatest proportion of deaths.

They are constipation and common colds. Many doctors now believe that colds, tonsillitis, a touch of malaria will cause constipation. Instead of constipation being their cause. The fact remains that you seldom have a cold without constipation, due to general congestion. The only way to avoid colds is to keep up your vitality. You usually catch cold in the winter if you are run down. Therefore in cold weather exercise more; eat more fatty foods; drink four to six glasses of water a day; keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open.

You are also less liable to colds if your system is free from the intestinal poisons of constipation, so empty the bowels regularly with a plain vegetable laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use safely, and which will give me a liberal free sample bottle, and for an accurate test, write me where to send it." Address: Dr. W. H. Caldwell, 513 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. On it now!

At the first sign of a cold, at the first few morning sneezes, take a teaspoonful of Syrup Pepsin and the congestion will be gone in a few hours. Don't wait until the cold has a grip on you. Mr. Henry Dean, Jr., of Rochester, N. Y., cured a stubborn cold in just that way, and Mrs. Alice Corbrey of Haskell, Okla., uses it effectively for all the small ills of her family, such as constipation, biliousness, headaches, dizziness, and to break up fevers and colds.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a scientifically-balanced compound of Egyptian aenna with pleasant-tasting aromatics. It is safe to give to infants, and all children like it. Before you again resort to cold remedies containing narcotics try a teaspoonful of Syrup Pepsin. Any druggist will supply you, and the cost is less than a cent a dose.

Big Increase Oil Refining Capacity

The oil refining capacity of the United States has increased 813 percent in 16 years, according to the American Petroleum Institute. The increase has been brought about by the demand created by the internal combustion engine.

In 1906 the refineries of the United States, running to capacity, could handle about 219,000 barrels of crude petroleum a day. The principal device a by-product and only about 5,000,000 barrels of it were produced during the entire year.

On January 1 of this year the refinery capacity was over 2,000,000 barrels a day. The principal demand is for gasoline, which, according to the latest official figures, was produced during July at the rate of about 150,000,000 barrels a year.

The present refineries in Mexico alone have a capacity nearly as great as the refineries in this country had 15 years ago.

When Baby Complains.

THERE ARE MANY WAYS a baby has of expressing any pain or irregularity or digression from its normal condition of health and happiness. A short sharp cry, a prolonged irritated cry, Restlessness, a constant turning of the head or of the whole body, fretful. In these and other ways a baby tells you there is something wrong. Most mothers know that a disordered stomach, or bowels that do not act naturally are the cause of most of baby's sufferings. A call for the doctor is the first thought, but in the event of any delay there should be ready at hand a safe remedy such as Fletcher's Castoria.

Castoria has been used for baby's ailments for over 30 years and has merited the good will of the family physician in a measure not equaled by any other baby's medicine because of its harmlessness, and the good results achieved.

And remember this: Castoria is essentially a baby's remedy and not a cure-all for every member of the family. What might help you is too often dangerous when given to a baby.

Castoria always bears the signature of

MASS MEETING AT GIBSON TO TALK BOND ISSUE

Flotation of $29,000 for Streets and Sewers Is Planned.

DATE IS NOVEMBER ONE

SOUTH CONNELLSVILLE, Oct. 6.—On November 1 a mass meeting of the citizens of the borough will be held at the school building to discuss a bond issue of $29,000 for the purpose of putting in a new sewage system and to improve streets. It will be voted on at the general election on November 7. The mass meeting was called by order of the borough council, which met last evening in regular session. Council aims to have a speaker who is well acquainted with the subject of sewage and paving to impress upon the minds of the citizens the necessity of putting the bond issue over.

Details of the financing of the proposed improvements will be explained so that voters will be in position to act intelligently at the election. The meeting will be held in the open on the school grounds. Should the weather be inclement it will be held inside.

The sewage plans provide for sanitary and storm lines in Pittsburg street, with outlets to the river by way of Balator and Wine streets and DuShane avenue.

CHURCH AGAIN TO HOUSE E. H. HIGH STUDENTS

Offer of Church of God at Alverton Accepted by School Board.

CITIZENS INSIST ON IT

Special to The Courier
ALVERTON, Oct. 5.—School conditions in East Huntingdon township have been calling forth a good bit of comment from citizens. The number of pupils in the high school presents a problem. To meet the needs of the high school last year, Room No. 1 of the grade but drug was used for high school purposes. As a consequence the sixth, seventh and eighth grades had their school sessions in the Sunday school rooms of the Church of God.

At the beginning of the school term this year conditions were very much the same as last. The school board failed to provide for the need, and school opened with no place for these pupils to attend school. Two weeks they were out of school after which the board decided to divide the time between the pupils of Room 3 and Room 4, one set going in the morning and the other in the afternoon.

The Church of God, realizing the need and being anxious that the children have the proper place for their education, offered the Sunday school rooms for the use of the school again. At a meeting of the school board two weeks ago this offer was turned down. At a meeting of October 2 a delegation of citizens attended and the board reconsidered, finally accepting the church's offer.

Mrs. Alice Watt and children visited the former's sister, Mrs. Clay Fox, of Scottsdale, on Sunday afternoon.

East Huntingdon High School football team defeated the Hermiston team at Hermiston, 19-0.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Church will meet at the home of Miss Olive Hixon this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Della Burger and daughter, Lucella, of Scottsdale visited the former's sister, Mrs. Edward Diestel, Sunday afternoon.

LESS MEAT IF BACK AND KIDNEYS HURT

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder
Bothers You.

Eating too much meat may produce kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid exiles the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, cold stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in urine so that it is no longer irritating, thus often ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders. —Advertisement.

Biggest Week in Tonnage And Production Increase Since Recovery Began

Total 118,680 Tons, a Gain of 13,340, Third Larger Than Any Previous Week.

From The Weekly Courier.

In point of total production and the weekly rate of gain over the preceding last week was the biggest the coke region has experienced since progress in recovery from the effects of the strike began to be noticeable in the week ended May 6.

The output of 118,680 tons, the largest since April 8, was almost two and one-half times that of the week which marked the high tide of the strike.

The weekly gain of 13,340 tons, exceeded the gain of any previous week by a third. In the single item of plant and oven additions only did last week fail to make the record complete. Although one plant and 570 ovens were brought to production after a idleness of approximately six months, the week of September 24 showed the larger gain of three plants and 653 ovens.

What was accomplished last week in the direction of making more coke available for an eager throng of consumers was significant in two important particulars. It encouraged the hope that the process of recovery to normal in operation is not going to be as long drawn out and tedious as it has been. It has been found that the slightly easier conditions in transportation and an indication of the expansion which will keep closely in step with every improvement in our supply and service.

Outside of railroad and the fuel trade circles it is difficult for the public to vision the state of affairs precipitated by the strike of the railway shippers, or measure accurately to what extent the crippling of motive power and rolling stock took place while the shops were idle or running with inefficient or inadequate forces of mechanics. That the tie-up in freight movement has not been immeasurably greater than it was in a surprise to those brought in closest touch with the situation. With railroads filled with idle, dead ends and a restricted number of serviceable locomotives to haul trains, and an almost over-night increase in traffic following the ending of the coal strike, the wonder is that the railroads have been able to function as well as they have.

To provide relief from the situation thus created will require, therefore, that cannot be forced with any degree of accuracy. On practically every railroad organizations will have to be largely rebuilt and weeks, perhaps months, will elapse before the pre-strike smoothness in running will be restored. Rapid progress is being made, however. In the coke region this is being attested by the fact that last week less than 500 tons of coke were placed in stock against 3,000 tons during the preceding week. Further, the firing up of plants and ovens continuous which would not be possible if the railroads were not better able to perform their service. Incidentally, but of large importance to the producers, better running time is being made which makes possible an improvement in oven efficiency.

There is one drawback, however, as there always seems to be in the business of making and shipping coke. The protracted dry weather, reducing the water supply of many coking operations to a dangerous low point. In the vicinity of Mount Pleasant, for example, has been had to haul water in order to avoid the necessity of closing down operations. Unless there is considerable rainfall within the next few days it is further, and inconvenience will be occasioned at various points in the region.

The estimated production of coke during the week ended September 2, 1932, was 118,680 tons, contributed by the two districts as follows: Connellsville, 90,220, an increase of 8,160 tons; Lower Connellsville, 28,460, an increase of 5,180 tons, or a total increase of 13,340 tons, a comparison with an increase of 5,571 tons during the preceding week.

By increasing the production from 90,220 tons, a gain of 8,160 tons, merchant, 28,460, a gain of 5,180 tons, as compared with gains of 2,110 and 2,100 tons respectively during the week ended September 23.

Of the gain of 570 ovens in the production list 338 were at furnace and 232 at merchant operations. Of the former the H. C. Frick Coke Company contributed 208 and independent furnace plants 130. In detail the additions were as follows: Collier, 50; Continental No. 1, 100; and Continental No. 2, 10 each; Continental No. 2, four; Hecla No. 2, 11; Hecla No. 3, 15; Lentsburg No. 1 and Phillips 30 each; Wynn, two; Yersum, 50; Youngstown, 43; Orient, 10; Republic, 30; Humphries, 20; Griffin No. 2, 32; Herbert and Puckett 1 and 2, 18 each; Hoover and Imhoff, 20 each; La Belle, 60; Old Home, 10; The Argonne No. 2, 15; Tower Hill No. 1, nine; Tower Hill No. 2, 20; LaBelle was brought into production during the week for the first time for six months. Additional ovens are being fired at this plant this week, also at other operations in both districts.

The week-to-week record for production, and the decrease or increase over that of the preceding six days since April, is shown in the following:

Tornadoes Meet Strong Lawrence A. A. Eleven On Gridiron Tomorrow

Local Independents Will Have Busy Time Winning
Clash.

C. H. S. IS "ALL SET"

The Conneltsville Tornadoes will play the Lawrence A. A. here tomorrow afternoon and the team is going to meet even stronger opposition than was United in the Pittsburgh aggregation. It is as husky as it was last year when it was rated a leader among the light-heavy eleven in that section.

Coach Jones had his men on the field again yesterday afternoon as there is no time for a rest to be taken now, even though the game Wednesday was for leader than it had been anticipated. Greatly improved form is expected tomorrow, and snap and dash will count considerably.

That the Tornadoes have strength was demonstrated by the manner in which the team held when its goal was threatened, but the scoring punch was lacking. There will likely be some changes in the line-up as Jones is determined to send his strongest scoring combination and players believing their jobs are clinched may suddenly awake to find themselves on the sidelines.

Orange and Black Ready For Johnnies

High School held its last scrimmage previous to the Johnstown game, at Fayette Field yesterday. It was a hard workout but every man came through without any serious injuries. A number of the regulars, including Whipple, Reid, McCormick, George, Bull and Enos did not participate, being saved for the coming clash. Enos did get into the mix-up for a time but when his old sore bothered him was dismissed at once.

"Cutler" Dugan acted as quarterback on both teams and for the first time this season the Conneltsville Tornadoes—with six regulars—cut—was scored on. Opposed by only three men in the secondary defense of the first team, Dugan worked the forward pass with success and the second team marched towards the goal.

On the line the regulars held back the plunges and then another forward Dugan to Kell Long, the midline member of the squad, brought the touchdown. Gillo and McCoy were playing first string ends yesterday and Long and Cunningham were in these positions for the second team.

Reports from Johnstown are that the Johnnies are not one bit afraid of the Cokers and in fact are really counting on what chance the team might have against Greensburg. It might be added that the Cokers feel nothing but victory in their bones this year and will likely shake the Flood City team from its foundations.

A recruit of the High School squad who might be looked to to show something is Angle. The quiet lad has a powerful arm in throwing forward passes and he can also punt. He has not been in any scrimmages with the Coker squads but those who have seen him in action in scrub games on the Pinnacle say he plays a real game. That he has the right stuff is indicated by the fact that he is sticking around for the first opportunity to be given him instead of chucking his uniform because he has not been recognized.

Lowrey participated in the scrimmage yesterday for a time but later was also excused. Bob Thomas, Williams and Illig are new additions to the squad.

The interest in High School football is evidenced by the fact that Coach Wise still has enough men reporting each night for three teams.

Brownsville is reported to have had several scouts here Wednesday to witness the Tornado-United game. They didn't get to see much as the Tornadoes didn't show anything.

Among the 15,000 rosters witnessing the Leonard-Tandler contest were some 400 or 500 women, old, young and middle-aged.

PITCHER WAS PEEVED

"When I was with Keokuk in the old Central association, we had a game on with Muscatine," says Charley Hollocher, "a fellow named Flanagan was pitching for them and, although he had a world of stuff he was unusually wild.

"He filled up the bases and walked the next batter, forcing home a run.

"This made him so mad that, when he received the ball from his catcher, he turned and threw it clean over the center field fence. Three more runs counted and Flanagan was given a year's suspension by the enraged Muscatine club heads. I never heard of him again."

THOUGHT HE WAS OUT

One day the Cardinals were playing at Philadelphia and Pat Flaherty, the southpaw, was on the slab for the Quakers. Pat had a deceptive motion to first base and often fooled not only the runners, but the batters.

St. Louis got a man to first and Steve Evans came up to bat. Pat kept pitching over to first and to the plate, winding up by having two strikes and three balls on Steve.

Pat suddenly, with a brilliant move, threw to first. Evans thought he was hurling at him and took a vicious swing—at Pat's motion.

Thoroughly disgusted with himself, Steve threw his bat down and started back to the Card bench.

"Here, there, where are you going?" demanded the umpire.

"I struck at that; I'm out, ain't I?" said Steve.

The Cardinal manager made Evans return to the plate and complete his turn.

WALTER JOHNSON IS TIRED OF TRAVELING

Trouping About Country Wearies
Big Washington Hurler.

Dillike Railroad Jaunts and Littering Around Hotels—Arm Does Not Hurt Him and Never Feels Least Bit Heavy.

According to E. H. Hottel, a Washington scribe, Walter Johnson likes to pitch ball; he says his arm is just as good as it ever was, and he feels that he will remain up to major league caliber for four or five more years at least.

"But Walter," says Mr. Hottel, "after many years of cavorting around the American league circuit, is about as fond of it as a traveling salesman is of covering a territory comprising nothing but one-horse towns. If anything should cause the big hurler to give up the sport before his days of usefulness as a major leaguer are ended, it will be his detestation for the railroad jaunts and the littering around hotels from breakfast to game-time, which are necessary evils that go with the life of a ball player."

"It was during the discussion of the burdensome side of the game that Walter made his declaration as to the stability of his salary whip. It seems just as strong to me as it ever did. In fact, I have concluded that work in what I need to get the best results. I must pitch at least once every four days to show my best form, and, as Manager Miller has reached the same conclusion, I hope to be called to the slab at those regular intervals."

"I guess I was endowed with an unusual arm," continued Walter. "It never hurts me and never feels the least bit heavy, no matter how hard a game I have to pitch. I don't know how much longer it will stand the gait, but there absolutely is no indication now of it giving away.

"Asked if he ever would pitch in the minors after his big league days were over, Walter said: 'I never would go to the minors under anyone else's management, but there are several minor league clubs that I would be glad to become owner or part owner of, and in that case it is possible that I might be seen on the mound against teams in the lower ranks.'"

Diamond Squibs

Frank Frisch still feels the effect of the spiking he received in Texas last spring.

Pitcher Sam Holder, obtained originally by Bloomington from San Antonio in the Texas league, has been turned back.

The Joplin club of the Western association reports the sale of its leading pitcher, Hippo Hooper, to the Chicago Nationals.

The Pittsburgh club announces the purchase of a pitcher named Foulk from the Grand Island club of the Nebraska State league.

The Milwaukee club of the American association announces the purchase of Pitcher Jack Knute from the Philadelphia American.

The Springfield club of the Western association has sold Jewell Winkle his release and the report is he will join a club in the Western league.

John Hendricks, Jr., son of Jack Hendricks, manager of the Indianapolis Indians, has been elected manager of the Seymour Reds baseball team.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The Yankees and Giants fought furiously but to no avail Thursday in the second game of the world series.

They had the score tied at three runs each at the end of the 10th inning when the umpires, seeing the approach of twilight, called an armistice. When hostilities broke out anew today the teams were in the same position as before yesterday's game, the Giants having one victory and the Yankees none.

Tens of hundreds of the 37,000 spectators who paid to see the thrilling encounter, were angered when the umpires ruled it was a no decision bout. They had come to see a knockout, and as they swarmed over the field they screamed their disgust to the high heavens and to every person they encountered who was of any importance in baseball affairs.

They told Manager McGraw of the Giants they wouldn't come back to his old Polo Grounds again for anything in the world. They hurled mean words upon the umpires, saying that anybody with good eyes could see it was still light enough to keep on playing. Then they rushed to the box where Baseball Commissioner Landis sat with Mrs. Landis.

The leading actors in the crowd barked questions and comment at the commissioner and the chorus behind boomed with vigor.

Unmoved, Mr. Landis put his old black hat over his flowing white locks and started to walk across the field to return to his hotel. The crowd surrounded him, hurling insults. A dozen special policemen rushed in to clear the way for him and the commissioner sought to wave them away, saying he would get through any New York crowd. Mrs. Landis, too, seemed unperturbed.

The howling hundreds dodged their footsteps until Mr. and Mrs. Landis had reached the Polo Ground office. Later the commissioner walked unguarded to his automobile, refusing protection. Had they known the baseball officials contemplated gift of the entire gate receipts to the charities of New York City, announced a few hours later, they would have saved their imprecations.

From the commissioner, the mob turned its fountains of advice upon the writers working in the press box. They wanted the world informed what an awful thing it is to see a ball game that nobody wins. The other thousands who went straight home seemed to feel that they had seen one of the most remarkable battles in the history of the titular autumn baseball classic.

They had seen the Giants rush into the lead in the first frame when Meusel belted the ball into the bleachers for a home run with two men on the bases. They had witnessed the uphill climb of the Yanks, first cutting down the Giant lead to two runs at the end of the first inning, then to one in the fourth when Aaron Ward lashed a home run over the left field bleachers and finally they had seen the Yankees tie the score in the eighth inning on two two-bag hits from the bats of "Babe" Ruth and Bob Meusel, brother of the home run hero of the first inning.

Several times the crowd had the thrill of watching an infielder hurl himself at a hard hit ball, be knocked to the ground by the force of it, and then jump up and throw out the batsman at first base. The experience came three times to Frank Frisch, the fast second baseman for the Giants.

The game was a pitchers' battle between Jess Barnes, the tall Giant right-hander, who twice defeated the Yanks during the 1931 world series, and Shawkey, one of the stellar veterans. Shawkey, after the second inning, improved steadily and the Giants made but three hits off his services in the last eight innings.

It was just the day for a pitchers' battle, hot and sultry as in midsummer. Almost every roofer in the bleachers peeled off his coat and so did the fans in the upper grandstand. But those in the more select seats down below kept their coats on. The crowd was bigger than on any day during the 1931 series and the money paid in, $120,554, was the highest sum ever deposited in baseball's coffers for one game. Both Shawkey and Barnes took their time and the game dragged along for two hours and 41 minutes.

Shawkey used great care before every pitch and Barnes' lazy floater reminded one of the slow motion pictures. It was the best thing he had. Shawkey relied on a curve that broke beautifully after the third inning.

Barnes tried exceedingly hard to fool "Babe" Ruth with his slow ball. For a time he succeeded, but in the eighth inning "Babe" choked him but and when Jess sent one of his slow ones toward the plate the home run slugger sent it to left field for two bases. Pipp's long fly to center field permitted him to reach third, from which he scored when Bob Meusel slapped a two-bagger into center.

Ruth attempted to steal home just before scoring on Meusel's hit in the eighth. He dashed in as Barnes started his windup and appeared to have succeeded in his daring attempt until Meusel fouled the pitch against the right field stand.

Ruth and Frisch stood out among their teammates in all around work. Frisch was the only Giant to knock out two hits. He had a spectacular day on the defense.

Details of the pitching analysis show that Barnes pitched 57 balls and 37 strikes, while Shawkey pitched 60 balls and shot over 32 strikes. Twenty-two foul balls were knocked off Shawkey's delivery and 12 off the Giant pitcher.

It would have been a heart-breaking game for either Barnes or Shawkey to lose. Each was found for eight hits, although four off Barnes went for extra bases. Each issued two passes, and the detailed analysis reveals that Shawkey pitched 146 balls while his opponent served up only one more to the plate. A double play, Scott to Ward to Pipp, killed off a Giant rally in the second after Stengel and Snyder started with singles. Cunningham, running for Stengel, who retired because of a charley horse, was left on third when Bancroft died out.

Shawkey passed Groh and Young in the third but whiffed Kelly for the final out. Thereafter for seven innings only four Giants reached first base, three on hits, and but one of them got as far as third base. Frisch beat out a hit in the fifth, stole second with the aid of a wild pitch and got to third with the aid of another wild toss, but Scott grabbed Irish Meusel's smash and throw him out to end the inning. One three batters faced Shawkey in each of the last four innings and the Giants' last faint chance to win went glimmering when Bancroft was thrown out at second trying to stretch his hit to center.

The Yankees threatened in the ninth but Barnes' ease to the emergency. Scott singled after Ward had fanned but was forced by Shawkey. Witt then singled to left and the Yankees' hopes were high until Dugan fanned with the count two and two. The Giants made a strong threat in the tenth when Bancroft drove a hit to center field. Witt grasped the ball on the first bounce and with a fine throw caught Bancroft as he tried to make two bases on the hit. Then the Yankees went out one, two, three and the umpires called off the fight.

At the Theatres

THE SOISSON.

"PENROD" showing today and tomorrow at this theatre, is the first National picture with "Freckles" Barry, supported by a big cast, in a delightful role. The picture is said to live up, in every respect, to the characters Booth Tarkington has immortalized in print. For the main incidents of his picture Mr. Neilan has drawn upon the formation of the American Boys' Protective Association, the amateur theatrical "The Children's Pageant at the Table Round"; the drink episode; the encounter with Rube Collins, tough boy, and the capture of the two notorious bandits. For his settings the director has chosen a typical rural town of perhaps 5,000 population, where the father and mother represent middle class people with ingrained pride in their only son and caustic regret over the necessity for administering chastisement upon him. Other characters in the town, the clerk, constable, society promoters of dramatic events and dancing school enthusiasts, have been retained in the making of the film version.

Freddie Barry plays the title role. Assisting him is a large ensemble of juveniles and a sprinkling of adult actors including Marjorie Daw, Tully Marshall and Eugene Bessner.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"SMILE! JIM," starring Franklin Farnum, is the leading picture today and tomorrow.

In "Smile! Jim" Mr. Farnum is called upon to essay two distinct characters. As Smile! Jim, the westerner, he enters the town of Ridgeville to escape the sheriff of the neighboring country, who has implicated him in a crime of which he is innocent. As Frank Harrison, an eastern oil expert, he portrays the part of Smile! Jim's brother, seeking Jim in Ridgeville to tell him that he has been cleared of all complicity in the crime.

The difficulties of portraying two different roles and types in the same photoplay can hardly be described and Mr. Farnum's long stage and screen experience stood him in good stead, the quality of the production being the best testimonial of his excellent ability.

The eight weeks occupied in filming "Smile! Jim" represented eight weeks of the hardest kind of work. The cast was not only compelled to battle the elements, but due to the contrariness of the weather, in order to complete the picture on schedule, they were forced to work early and late whenever the sky cleared.

THE ORPHEUM.

"WHITE OAK," the feature picture today and tomorrow, is a Paramount picture featuring William S. Hart, the popular screen actor. In this Paramount photoplay Mr. Hart is seen as a breezy, gritty gambler in the west of the early fifties. His sister dies as a result of exposure to cold following her dive into the river from a steamboat to escape a scoundrel and he plans vengeance. The girl he loves joins a wagon train in which is ambushed by Indians, and Oak Miller, with the aid of a dog, manages to drive the Indians away. How the villain is punished and Oak and Barbara, his fiancée, find happiness make one of the best pictures turned out by Mr. Hart in many a day. The picture has all the elements that please the average picture fan, and Mr. Hart's portrayal of the brave gambler may be as usual, effective and thoroughly artistic. Viola Vale proves herself an adorable leading woman, while the supporting players, notably Alexander Gaden, Robert Walker, Bert Spratto, Helen Holley and Chief Standing Bear are excellent. The photography is superb.

WEST END, UNIONTOWN.

"SHUTTLE ALONG" The book of "Shuttle Along," the sensational colored musical comedy, was written by Miller and Lyles, and which had a record of two years at the Sixty-third Street Music Hall, New York, and which boasts of a real riot and story. It starts out with preliminary for an election in a small southern town, with three mayoralty candidates in the field. Two of the candidates are partners in a grocery business, and the way they rob each other to further their campaign makes complications so thick and fast, with situations so exasperatingly funny that the audience is simply convulsed with laughter; and when Sissy and Blake's melodiously beautiful score is added to this book, a concoction results so delightful that few can afford to miss it. "Shuttle Along" is scheduled to appear at the West End Theatre, Uniontown, on Friday and Saturday, October 6 and 7, with Saturday matinee.

Fiume Is Famous For Its Divorces

Fiume, Sept. 20.—It is city counts a population of 55,000, 15,000 of them resolved degrees of divorce. In the years 1920 and 1921, divorces seem to be the most flourishing of the local industries, and it is making the city famous.

The reason is that the severance of the marital bond is easy here, and people desiring freedom flock to Fiume from neighboring states where divorces are not granted. Anyone can get a divorce in Fiume who has lived in the city long enough to acquire the rights of citizenship.

Complications, however, occasionally arise. The case is still remembered of an Italian woman who acquired the citizenship of Fiume and divorced her husband, who remained an Italian subject. Shortly after her divorce she remarried and returned to Italy, where she was promptly imprisoned for bigamy. The Italian law considering her divorce null and void, her husband being an Italian, and, as such, not entitled to divorce.
